DESIGN AND DEVELOPMENT OF MOBILE APPLICATION TOURIST SPOTFINDER FOR NELSON, NEW ZEALAND

AILEEN E. PACIA

nmit
Nelson Marlborough Institute of Technology
Te Whare Wānanga o Te Tau Ihu o Te Waka a Maui

This project aims to design and develop a mobile application for tourist arriving at Nelson, New Zealand in order for them to know, familiarize and locate tourist attractions in the area.
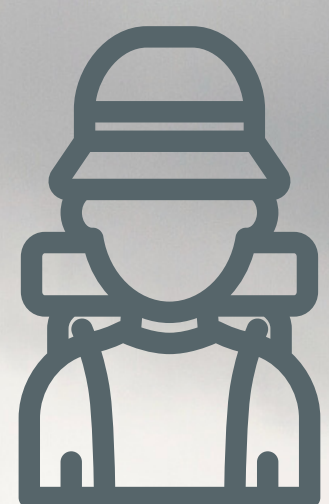

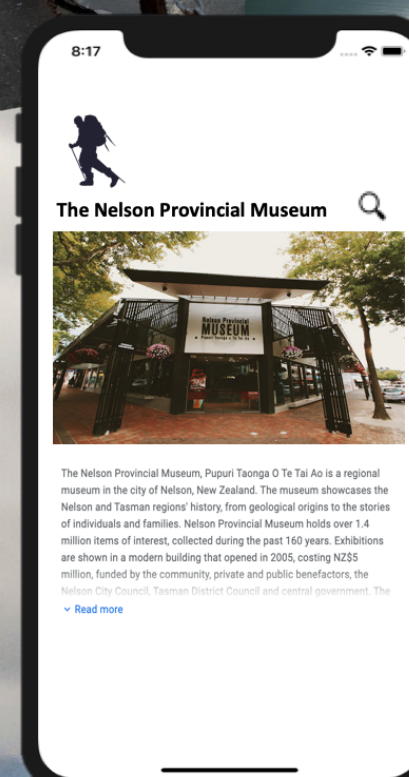

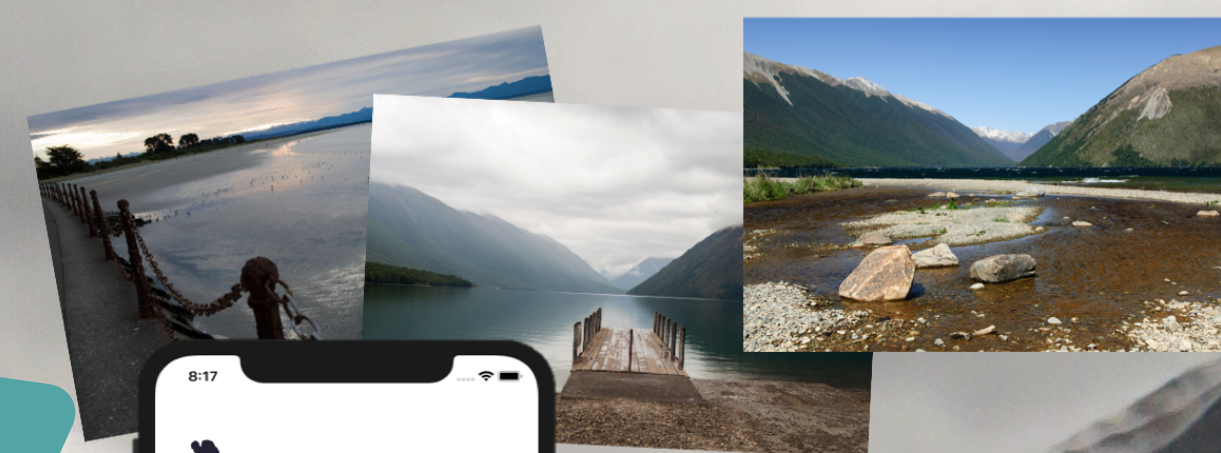

Majority of the mobile applications for travelers were developed to help tourists and travelers becomes oriented and familiar with their chosen destinations such as getting information for a particular locality as in case of cities or a region of interest.

Tourist Spot Geo Mapping
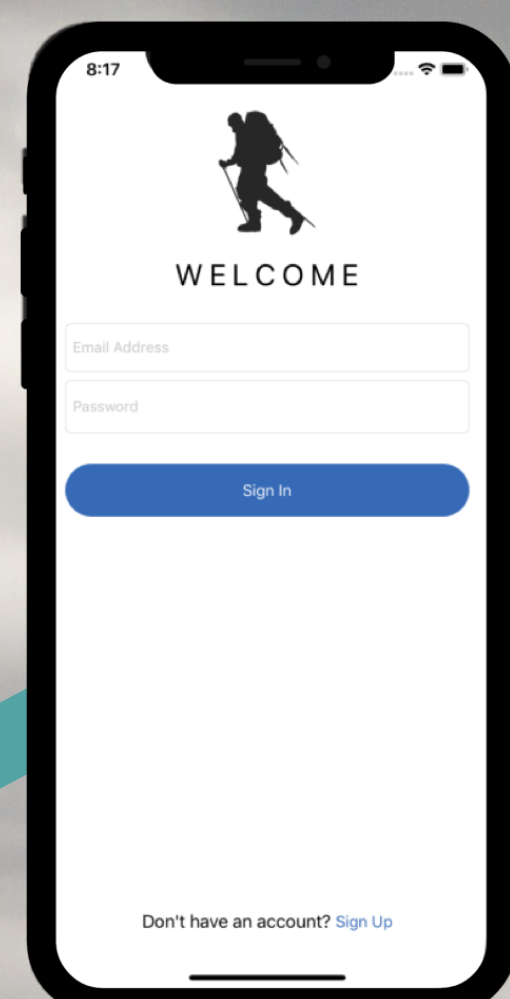

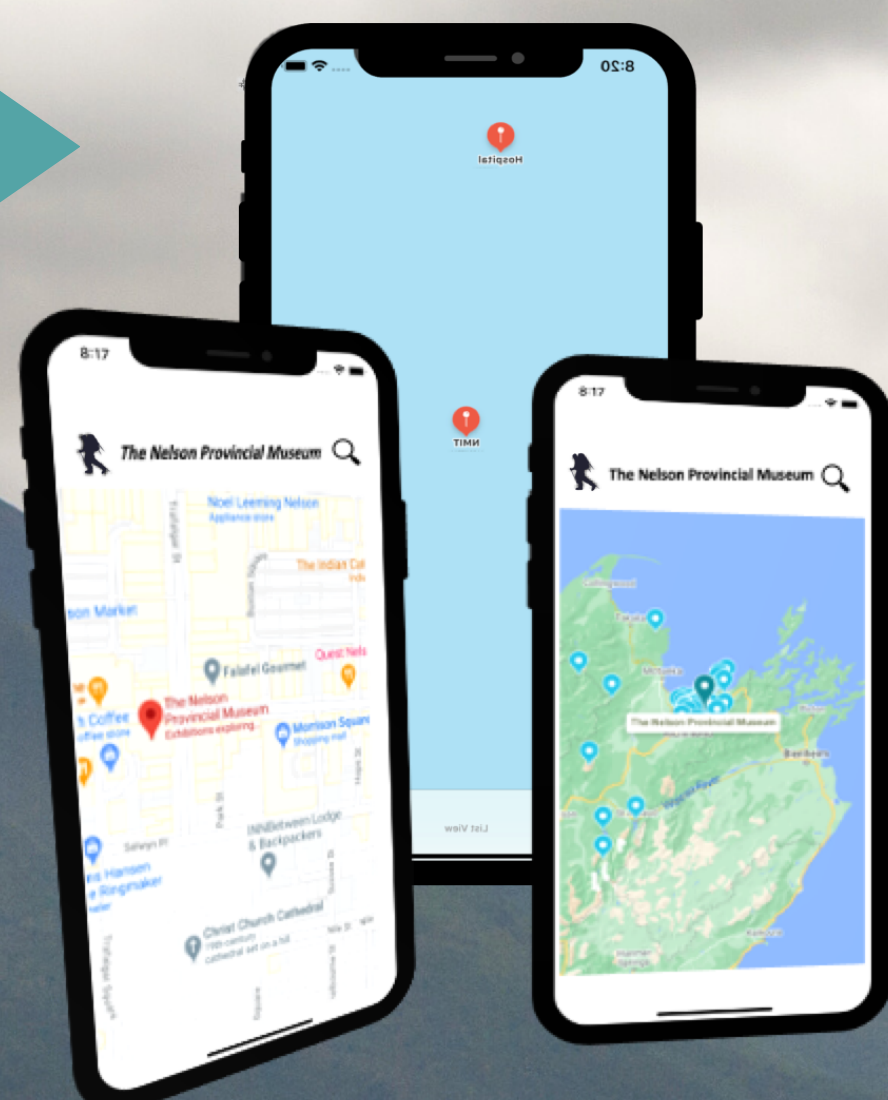

MAIN FEATURES

Tourist Spot Finder with Destination Description

The mobile app that was developed though may be simple yet user friendly especially for first time users of tourist spot location finder. The user interface is very simple to use as object-oriented codes enables the app to be built in a relatively simple to follow interactive environment for the users. This kind of development manner not only ease the proponent to build the project but also enable a more personalized and closer relationship to the users.

These are the categories of systems application These are the categories of systems application solely intended and designed to function on mobile gadgets such as iPhones, designed and developed with the aid XCode for Mac OS.

Mobile App Storyboard

iOS